The poster is a vertical rectangular image with a warm, rustic aesthetic. It features a background of a scenic Italian town (Sannio region) with a church and mountains. In the foreground, there's a pizza on the left, a plate of pasta on the right, and a glass of red wine in the center-right. The text is arranged in a central column, with decorative flourishes. The title "A Taste of Sannio" is in a large, elegant serif font. Below it, "PIZZA, PASTA & FILM" and "AT OSTERIA SANTINA" are in a smaller, bold serif font. The event details (date, time, location, presenter) are in a white box with a thin border. Below that, a green box contains the invitation text. At the bottom, a white box features the film title "Amore nel Sannio" in a script font. The contact information is at the very bottom.

Join us at Osteria Santina for a memorable afternoon filled with the flavors, beauty, and romance of Italy! 🇮🇹 🍷 🍕

Enjoy a delicious Italian luncheon featuring pizza, pasta, salad, calamari, and wine, followed by a special screening of Amore nel Sannio, presented by Emmy-nominated, award-winning filmmakers Marylou and Jerome Bongiorno of Bongiorno Productions.

Set amid the breathtaking landscapes of the Sannio region outside Naples, this charming film follows Italian-American filmmakers as they discover the area's rich traditions, culinary artistry, and an unexpected romance inspired by the perfect pairing of wine and prosciutto.

Presented in English and Italian with subtitles, the approximately 30-minute film also celebrates the beloved art of Neapolitan pizza making.

Guests will have the opportunity to meet the filmmakers and learn more about their efforts to bring Amore nel Sannio to PBS stations nationwide.

Come hungry and leave inspired! ❤️🇮🇹
